WRITING

a blog post

6A Read the blog post. How has the writer changed? Complete the summary with words from the text.

I'm not the person I once was

When I was a young kid, I was pretty adventurous. I was always out in the woods near home, climbing trees and swimming in the river. As a teenager, I was a bit of a risk-taker and didn't think twice about the stuff I did: snowboarding, sky-diving, you name it! I think I've changed considerably since then. These days I much prefer indoor activities and I've been a music teacher for the last four years. I've become a lot calmer as a result! I'm still curious about the world, but I haven't done anything 'extreme' for a long time!

I'm definitely less ¹..... and no longer a ²..... Nowadays, ³..... are more my thing, and my role as a ⁴..... has calmed me down. That doesn't mean I'm not ⁵..... about what's going on around me. I just choose not to take part in ⁶..... sports like snowboarding and sky-diving anymore!

B Read the comments. Underline examples of the present perfect simple and continuous.

Astrid94
14.07 | 2 Nov

I would say that I've actually changed very little. I've always been very close to my family and we agree on most things. You'll often find us all on the golf course, too – recently I've taken up the sport so I can join my parents and brothers for a game!

JosephER
14.22 | 2 Nov

I've changed loads! As a young child I was quiet like my mum, who brought me up on her own, but in my teenage years I was rebellious and hated school with a passion. I think I've outgrown that, and I've been channelling my energy into being ambitious instead.

I_Kara
14:39 | 2 Nov

I've always had two sides to my personality. In my work as a gym instructor, I'm patient and cheerful, but in my personal life, I'm a total stress-head, though I've been working on that! I still love nothing more than getting together with friends and debating all the issues important to us.

C Make notes about how these things have changed as you have got older. Then write a blog post. Write 100–140 words.

- your personality
- your interests
- your values

- b providing assistance to students

B Read the article again. Are the statements True (T) or False (F)?

- 1 Students are given regular support on the experiments they're doing.
- 2 Daniela refuses to do certain tasks outside of the lab.
- 3 Daniela does not especially enjoy one important part of her job.
- 4 Daniela says she is sometimes jealous of her students' ability to come up with ideas.
- 5 Daniela usually finds her conference talks go well.
- 6 Daniela thinks students should not work too hard in the lab.

A day in the life ...

research scientist Dr Daniela Brown

8.45 a.m.

¹Based at a university, I supervise research students as they carry out experiments in the lab. It's my role to keep them – the students and the experiments! – on track, so the first thing I do when I arrive is to take a look at the results of any experiments that were running overnight. If an experiment didn't go as predicted, I might adapt it and get the students to repeat it in a slightly different way.

9.30–10.30 a.m.

²After this, I head to my office to go through my emails. That can take some time! I could do it remotely, but when I go home in the evening, I prefer to switch off. My job can be pretty stressful and I think it's important to have some down-time. While I'm in my office, I might also do a bit of reading. I'll maybe look through scientific journals or reference books. I also like to make sure I'm doing all the technical stuff for the experiments right, so I'll double-check on techniques and report back to the students if need be.

10.35 a.m.–1.00 p.m.

³Then I'll grab a coffee and settle down to analyse the results of previous days' experiments, and I might spend some time reporting on my findings, too. Getting papers published for others to read is an essential part of any research job, though I prefer practical work, so writing up can seem a bit like hard work! Thankfully, I have my own supervisor who I can approach with any questions or ask for help if I get stuck. It's important for any researcher to be able to discuss ideas with other experts.

13.45–4.30 p.m.

⁴After lunch, I'll spend some time in the lab with the students. They will have questions of their own, though I can't always answer them! In science, there's always trial and error, but I encourage them to find solutions and new ways of doing things. I don't pretend to know it all because I certainly don't. What always amazes me is that someone will always come up with a way of doing something that I've never even thought about.

9.00 a.m.–5.00 p.m. (on occasion)

⁵Occasionally, my day will involve attending a scientific conference instead. I haven't presented at one yet, but it's fascinating to see what else is going on out there in the scientific community, and it often informs what I might decide to work on next.

6.00 p.m.

⁶Before my working day ends, I will go back to the lab after a bit more time in my office to see how the research students have got on during the day and to answer their questions. I'll also help out with setting up any experiments that will run overnight. I'll remind students not to work too late and to get some much-needed rest before I log off and head out of the lab myself.

WRITING

a for-and-against essay

5A Read the article and choose the main topic (a–c).

- a The benefits of walking in the rain.
- b Why people dislike walking in the rain.
- c How to enjoy walking in the rain.

B Complete the article with although, despite, however or while.

Wet weather walking

Cary Stuart | Thurs 12 Aug | 10.12 GMT

¹..... the fact that we're repeatedly told to spend more time in nature, few of us actually do.

²..... it's true that it's often raining and cold in the UK, there are ways to making walking in wet weather more appealing.

You may have heard the expression, 'There's no such thing as bad weather – only bad clothing'.

³..... it's easy enough to buy wet weather gear, it means making a bit more effort to get out of the house. ⁴....., if you take that extra step, you might just find it was worth it.

To avoid getting really wet on your walk, try taking a route through woodland, where the trees provide cover. ⁵....., remember that rain can still drip through the branches, so don't take off your raincoat just yet!

The best way to enjoy a walk in the rain is to set off with the right attitude. Then, ⁶..... the fact you're getting a little wet, you can really start to appreciate nature in all weathers.

C Correct the mistakes in the sentences.

- 1 Despite I love living in the city, I also like getting out into the countryside from time to time.
- 2 My apartment has got a fantastic view. Although, I'm starting to find it a little small.
- 3 Despite many people I know prefer renting, I've decided to save up and buy a house.
- 4 However there can be a great sense of community in villages, everyone knows your business, too!
- 5 Although the fact that public transport is so good in the city, many people still insist on driving.
- 6 I think there are very few downsides to living in the country. Despite, I'll admit it can be boring at times.

D You are going to write a for-and-against essay about whether spending time indoors or outdoors is better for our well-being. Make notes in each column.

lifestyle adjectives

- 1 Choose the correct word to complete the magazine article.

An interview with ...

a storm chaser

In this week's 'Interview with a ...', Zen Magazine talked to Micky Nguyen, who has the fascinating-sounding job of storm chaser.

Zen Magazine (ZM): Being a storm chaser sounds like a pretty ¹harsh / unique job! I've never even heard of it.

Micky Nguyen (MN): You're right! The work is far from ²ordinary / modest, and I never expected to do this for a living. More and more people are starting to do it, though.

ZM: So, tell us what it involves. Following storms around ... ?

MN: Yeah, I have to get up close to storms so that I can place sensors to record weather data. The conditions can be ³rewarding / harsh, particularly in winter when most storms occur.

ZM: Why is there a need for what you do?

MN: It helps weather forecasters be able to give better storm warnings. It's ⁴tedious / rewarding in that way because I know I'm helping people.

ZM: You drive all over the country – isn't that ⁵unique / exhausting?

MN: I do get tired, yes. And there are risks. I could get struck by lightning! I never have, though. That sense of danger is exciting but I'm very careful.

ZM: Well, it certainly doesn't sound boring!

MN: Never! I used to work in an office and the work was pretty ⁶tedious / rewarding. The days would stretch on forever. The salary was better – I'm on quite ⁷unique / modest pay now in comparison, but I wouldn't change a thing!

READING

2A Skim the article quickly and answer the questions.

Do scientists think it is possible to:

- 1 travel forwards in time?
- 2 travel backwards in time?

B Complete the sentences with words from the article. Write between one and three words.

- 1 The writer says that we do not find our own kind of time travel
- 2 The writer suggests that un-doing would be a good reason to travel back in time.
- 3 The writer refers to a theory known as, which involves complex mathematics.
- 4 If we lived on the ISS for a long time, we wouldn't need to apply
- 5 Einstein's tell us that backwards time travel is theoretically possible.
- 6 Unfortunately, the make travelling back in time impossible in reality.
- 7 Scientists are aware of, although it is impossible to see it.
- 8 Tunnels, known as, could allow us to travel enormous distances.

C Read the article again. What would make a good concluding sentence?

- a It looks as though time travel to the future is more likely than to the past!
- b For the moment, maths can only suggest that time travel is possible – but watch this 'space'!
- c You never know, time travel could be a reality in the very near future!

Is time travel actually possible?

Sofia Valdez | 20th Oct | 12.02 GMT

You may have seen Doctor Who, Back to the Future or read The Time Traveller's Wife, but can you imagine yourself jumping into the future or back into the past? Is it even a possibility? Here's what the scientists say.

We all travel through time, second by second, minute by minute, hour by hour. But there doesn't seem to be anything incredible about that (unless you stop and think about it) because it's our norm, and, much as we might like to go backwards in time, perhaps to correct our mistakes or experience something fantastic again, we can only go forwards. Scientists say we can travel faster if we want to. But explaining that involves Einstein and theories and physics and maths, and something known as 'space-time'. (It's all a bit complicated.)

Astronauts are the nearest we have to actual time travellers. They can be in space for several weeks or months. When they're on the International Space Station (ISS), they're moving faster than the rest of us back on Earth. This actually creates a situation where they're going slower in time than we are on Earth. (It's true, trust us.) If they were there for years, they'd age better than the rest of us. So, perhaps space travel is better than face creams and anti-aging diets!

But can we go back in time? Unfortunately, Earth's physics simply don't allow it. But if we return to Einstein for a minute, we know that some of his mathematical calculations do indeed suggest travelling back in time is possible. The problem is that although Einstein might have theoretically proven we can go back in time, in fact, all the other laws of physics really do make it impossible.

This doesn't stop scientists from trying, though! We know that dark matter exists (parts of the universe that we can't see because they don't give off energy or light – as far as we know). And in that dark matter, there might be 'wormholes' (theoretical tunnels through space and time). If there are, we could travel from one area of space to another – which could be billions of kilometres away and in a different place in time.
